

University of Cyprus
Department of English Studies

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of English Studies is to provide an internationally oriented, thematically diverse and expansive programme of education in the language, literature, thought and other cultural dimensions of the Anglophone world, within an interdisciplinary framework, grounded in the humanities and taking into account the interaction between contemporary Cypriot realities and the state of the world at large.

At the same time, the Department of English Studies undertakes international research in the areas of literary and cultural studies, theoretical and applied linguistics, as well as translation studies and interpreting. It also trains in a scientifically rigorous and comprehensive fashion future researchers and professionals in the areas of language, creative writing, foreign language education and culture.