No, you are not allowed to work during the Full scholarship. You will be also asked to sign a student declaration verifying that you are not working before the award of the scholarship. When/How, will I be paid my Full scholarship?

Scholarships will be paid in twice-yearly instalments within a month of the fall and a month of the spring semester, after your registration into degree courses. Scholarship payments are made via electronic funds transfer direct to your nominated bank account. However, the last payment of the 8th semester of the stipend will be made once you submit your PhD thesis.

Can I hold a scholarship and study part-time?

No, you should study full-time. Please be sure to check your semester study load once you registered into degree courses.

If I reduce my course load to part-time status, will this affect my eligibility for keeping the scholarship?

Yes, dropping to part time study will affect your eligibility for keeping your scholarship. You should be a Full time student through the whole duration of your studies.

If I change my program, will it affect my scholarship application?

To avoid any issues arising, we recommend students research their opportunities and choose a preferred course before applying to a scholarship.

If I defer my offer until the following semester, can I keep my scholarship?

Following the positive suggestion of the Departmental Postgraduate Committee and the approval of the UCY Graduate School Dean, a student who defers an initial offer of admission and accompanying scholarship offer may retain his/her scholarship offer for next academic semester. However, this is not always the case and you may need to make an application again. Our scholarships change year on year, depending on various factors and you should check our website each year.

I am thinking of leaving the University, what will happen to my scholarship?

A student who withdraws, cancels or becomes inactive, is suspended or dismissed from the University will lose his/her scholarship eligibility. A student who takes such a status due to medical reasons or other approved extenuating circumstances, maternity or paternity leave, will have his/her scholarship reinstated.

If I leave the University, do I need to repay the scholarship award?

Students who withdraw from study or drop to part time study may be required to repay all or part of their scholarship award.

Will another scholarship or award affect the awarded scholarship from UCY?

You are responsible for reporting any other award or scholarship you are receiving to the UCY. Receipt of a scholarship from another organization, financial aid office etc. will result in reductions to the scholarship award you receive from UCY. We therefore strongly urge you to consult with your financial aid office prior to applying for a UCY scholarship to determine whether you might be affected by such a reduction.

Can I apply for a scholarship if I am already studying at the University of Cyprus?

Yes, provided you are applying for a new degree course for the next academic year.

Are there any scholarships offered by the Departments at the University of Cyprus?
